

Rosen Hagood Celebrates 70 Years in Business, Launches Resource “Good to Know”

June 1, 2018

This past year, Rosen Hagood celebrated its 70th anniversary as a law firm dedicated to unparalleled service and the tireless pursuit of justice on behalf of our clients. And while we’re proud of our past and how far we’ve come, we know that’s only the beginning. Our goal is to continue to foster the cherished relationships we’ve built over the years, while also forging new alliances for the future. We hope to serve our clients as a pillar of the Charleston community for at least another 70 years.

To that end, Rosen Hagood is launching this blog with the aim of providing an additional resource for our clients, colleagues, community, and co-counsel. “Good to Know” will serve as a compilation of insights, updates, and practical legal information about a range of topics as diverse as the practices of our attorneys.

As the expectations of our clients evolve in today’s ever-changing, technology-driven marketplace, we too must adapt accordingly. We welcome that challenge and the road ahead, and hope you will turn to us when you need an ally.

Grounded In Our Past. Invested In Your Future.
