

Alice Paylor was formally approved for membership by the National Board of Directors of ABOTA

February 3, 2014

Many consider their invitation to join the American Board of Trial Advocates as one of the special highlights of their legal career. ABOTA has chapters in every state, and their members constitute a “who’s who” of the trial lawyers, nationwide.

Judges, legislators, and community leaders believe that ABOTA encompasses what is “best” in the legal profession. ABOTA continues to strive to educate students and their parents, educators, judges, lawyers, and all civic leaders with respect to the principles of civility, professionalism, and the precious right to trial by jury.
