

Charleston Attorney Elected to Serve on South Carolina Bar Foundation

July 15, 2003

Charleston, SC – Richard Rosen, of Rosen, Rosen & Hagood, LLC, has been elected to serve as a 2003-2004 board member for the South Carolina Bar Foundation. Rosen is the immediate past president of the South Carolina Bar.

Incorporated in South Carolina as a not-for-profit, charitable and educational organization, the South Carolina Bar Foundation supports the goals of the legal profession by funding law-related services for the public and professional enrichment of members of the Bar. The mission of the foundation is to provide basic access to civil justice for low-income citizens, to offer law related education services to the public, to improve the administration of justice and to enhance the legal profession for members of the bench and bar of South Carolina.

Rosen specializes in personal injury and business litigation lawsuits, recently representing plaintiffs in a lawsuit, which resulted in a $7,800,000.00 judgment against the Sea Pines Company of Beaufort, SC. He is also past secretary and treasurer of the South Carolina Bar as well as a former member of the South Carolina Bar Board of Governors and former chairman of the South Carolina Bar House of Delegates. Rosen is also a member of the American Board of Trial Advocates and the Supreme Court Judicial Council.

About Rosen, Rosen & Hagood, LLC

Rosen, Rosen & Hagood, LLC, is an AV rated firm as designated by Martindale-Hubbell, signifying the highest possible ranking for legal ability and ethics, as judged by one's peers in the legal profession. Founded in 1947 and based in Charleston, SC, the firm represents businesses, individuals and governmental entities and specializes in complex litigation in the areas of construction, business, product liability, medical malpractice, negligence, wrongful death, traumatic brain injury, personal injury, family law, employment, commercial litigation and complex damage claims.