Competition and trade keeps industry moving forward. At the end of the day, whether a success or failure, if your company is built on a solid foundation with legitimate business strategies and practices, you can be proud of what you accomplished. Unfortunately, not all businesses and business owners operate with the same moral and ethical standards. Some businesses try to gain an unfair advantage by engaging in oppressive or deceptive activities such as fraud, misrepresentation, price fixing, bid rigging, or collusion.

These illegal business practices can hurt your company and your customers. Our business attorneys work on the behalf of our clients to help identify and end unfair competition and deceptive business practices.

Our highly-qualified business lawyers have decades of combined experience with claims in the following areas:

- State and Federal Antitrust Laws
- State and Federal Price Discrimination Cases
- Unfair Competition
- Deceptive Trade Practices
- False Advertising
- Fraud and Misrepresentation
- Breach of Contract
- Interference with Contractual Relations
- Collusion
- Civil Conspiracy
- Consumer Deception

Unfair business practices can cripple the ability of small, innovative businesses to compete with established or large companies that may have stagnated or become inefficient. We will work on your behalf to ensure your right to compete is not infringed upon by a business of any size.

The most progressive industries are those which can develop free of the oppressive influence of self-interested parties, and our team of attorneys strives to create more equitable business environments for our clients.
