

Rosen Hagood Attorney Tapped for Primerus YLS Leadership Position

September 8, 2021

Rosen Hagood attorney Bijan Ghom has been asked to join the Executive Committee for Primerus Young Lawyers Section (YLS).

“I’m excited to work with other members of the YLS Executive Committee,” said Ghom. “It’s an active group of young lawyers from different parts of the world that all seem to share the same desire to meet other good lawyers and learn from them.”

Primerus is a society of independent, boutique law firms around the world with nearly 200 member firms in more than 40 countries. The YLS aims to provide young lawyers with the tools and opportunities for professional and personal success.

“Primerus is very supportive of our young lawyers and their professional development. We know they will be the future leaders of Primerus and investing in their growth is important for their own careers, their law firms that allow them to participate, and Primerus’ future membership” said Chris Dawe, Primerus Senior Vice President of Member Services. “The Young Lawyers Section is led by an Executive Committee comprised of five young lawyers from across the country. They are well accomplished even in their young careers and their input is essential to developing programs and steering the Section in a relevant meaningful direction. Bijan Ghom has all of the leadership qualities that we look for and he will be an excellent addition to the committee.”

Ghom practices in the areas of business and commercial litigation, business and corporate law, employment and labor law, and probate, estate, and trust litigation. As a former business owner with a master’s degree in business administration, he has a unique perspective and ability to handle legal transactions and complex business litigation.
