Visitors should take a parking ticket upon entering the garage. Immediately to your right on the ground level are seven visitor parking spaces. These parking spaces have a limit of two hours and are subject to booting after that time. If you plan on staying longer than two hours there are three reserved parking spaces on the third level that are marked with the firm name. Visitor parking is also allowed in unmarked spaces on the third floor and above.

After parking, make your way to the ground floor of the parking garage. Follow the covered walkway through the back of the brick building where the bank drive-thru is located and all the way to the front of the building where you will find the elevators. We are located on the fourth floor.

If the parking garage is full use Cumberland Street parking garage

In the event the Liberty Center parking garage is shown as full, there is additional parking at the Cumberland Street parking garage. The Cumberland Street parking garage is a public parking garage. Take Horlbeck Alley toward Meeting Street. Cross Meeting Street as it turns into Cumberland Street. The parking garage will be on your left.
